BOCA RATON, Fla./EWORLDWIRE/Feb. 21, 2011 — Corporate business travelers are finding the extensive availability of private jet charter transportation available through Paramount Business Jets, the most appropriate way to manage costs associated with on-demand charter flight needs.

While Paramount's offerings encompass a range of aircraft – from Hawker 400XPs to Gulfstream 550s and Boeing business jets, cost savings of between 20 % and 40 %t below current market pricing are achieved through the company'ss transparent business model.

Paramount's new Jet Card Membership Program presents four distinct levels of membership, each allowing for a fixed management fee of 10 to 15 percent. Paramount Jet Card members see exactly how much flights actually cost and any negotiated discounts. Because all broker discounts and negotiated discounts are passed through to members, Jet Card members more accurately understand the pricing differences between Paramount Business Jet's wholesale pricing and standard retail charter rates.

The Paramount Jet Card Membership Program includes an unexpected bonus: members are exempt from paying the industry required 7.5 % Federal Excise Tax on commissions.

The Paramount Web site ParamountBusinessJets.com presents a private jet database with the largest selection of private jet empty legs in the world. Current listings of hundreds of empty leg charters make it possible to achieve cost savings of up to 75% on empty scheduled charter flights.

« Because private jet charter brokers typically shield their markups in the total price, customers feel as though they are negotiating with brokers without ever knowing if they are receiving a fair price for their specific charter, » stated Eric Ammon, senior vice president of sales and services of Paramount Business Jets. « Our transparent pricing Jet Card model eliminates the stigma of the used car salesman mentality and allows clients to be confident that they aren't paying more than necessary. »
